a) ADA Facility Renovations

An accessible parking area for the new outdoor restroom building will be added at H.R. Turner Park.

b) Streetscapes – www.futuregreer.com

Trade Street has been extremely busy since the entire length of the downtown street reopened to vehicles on November 4. People visiting the downtown area will need to become accustomed to the bollards on Trade Street. The solid vertical posts that separate the roadway and parking spaces from the sidewalks are spaced on the sidewalk side of the trench drains that extend the length of Trade Street. When a car is properly parallel parked there will be approximately 4 feet between the car and bollards. Using the trench drains and the contrasting bricks on either side of the drains will help parallel parkers be aware of their position.

City of Greer crews are currently installing Christmas decorations on Trade Street. School and Victoria Streets will remain at the center of the CenterG Project through December. Crews are currently working on the east (Greer Housing Authority) side of School Street and completed storm drain work yesterday in that location. Curb and gutter, underground electrical, irrigation, sidewalk and streetlight pole installation is scheduled into December on both sides of the street.

Victoria Street remains closed between Trade Street and East Poinsett Street. Silva cell work will begin there on November 18, followed by underground electrical and irrigation work into December.

Curb and sidewalk demolition on Victoria will also begin the week of November 18 between Trade Street and School Street. Intermittent lane closures may be necessary however, the bock will remain open to traffic.

The New Year will have Sossamon Construction crews moving to the periphery of the project boundaries. First will be East Poinsett Street followed by South Main Street. Decorative intersection work and installation of the string lights on Trade Street will be the final tasks of the CenterG streetscape work. The entire project remains ahead of schedule and slightly under budget.

The bid for the parking garage was awarded to Triangle Construction. The facility will have 5 levels with 380 spaces comprised of 290 spaces for the City of Greer and 90 spaces for the hotel.
c) Christmas
New Christmas decorations are being installed on Trade Street with the new light poles and trees in place. Center for the Arts will also be decorated inside and outside. Red invited the Recreation Association Board to stop by the new facility and stroll on Trade Street as well as the rest of the downtown and Greer City Park areas to take in the beautiful display of decorations. Oak Farms will be installing the decorations on the buildings the week of November 25 and be completed the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

d) Classification & Compensation Study
The City of Greer has contracted with Management Advisory Group, Inc. (MAG) in Charlotte, NC to conduct a Classification and Compensation Study.
